

There is a deliberate policy to delay the access to help. I have been waiting for weeks to get a phone call, to get a date, for an appointment, to be assessed.

My wife received a class 3 package last week.

It has taken 12 months of phone calls and frustration to get this package.

We get the feeling that you, want us to pass away rather than help.